

Do you need to review
and redesign
your church's bylaws or organizational structure?

CORPUS
can help.

More churches are realizing they must address and possibly change the organizational design that influences—and at times controls—the church’s culture in order to revitalize.

Corpus, a trusted name in revitalization resources across many denominations, has responded to this growing need by making this Bylaws Package available to you. Dr. Rob Peters, founder and president, has extensive organization experience as a team member for Deloitte and E and Y and has also gained valuable experience by serving three churches as senior pastor in varying sizes over the past 30+ years.

Please let us know how we can best help you review and redesign your bylaws or organizational structure by contacting:

“Corpus set the direction and tone of our new bylaw structure. I thank God for Dr. Peters and his wisdom in carefully listening to a congregation. He and his team were kind and professional and heard the hearts of a congregation desiring to have governing documents that would please the Lord. It’s not too often you grow in your faith in a constitution and bylaws deep dive, but with Corpus, it happens!”

JOSH SAEFKOW, D.MIN., Senior Pastor, Flat Creek Baptist Church

“Our church was struggling when we were introduced to Dr. Rob Peters and Corpus. After some time with our Refocus group, we realized that our bylaws were going to restrict our search for another pastor. We worked with Rob on our bylaws and reached a compromise that was suitable for the deacons, our congregation, church staff, and prospective pastors. As a result, we were able to call a great pastor, and our church is thriving spiritually and growing.”
